and remain one week at the Central Hotel. Office hours: from 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 6 p. m. DR. WESLEY will visit Maysville every other week during the Winter and Spring months should his practice warrant it.

The success of DR. WESLEY'S efforts in this city some two years ago attracted widespread attention and caused hundreds to visit him who had almost abandoned all hope of relief, and in nearly every instance the sufferers were either cured or greatly benefited from the treatment they received. His scientific method of diagnosing disease without asking the patient a single question is a surprise to them all, but very easily understood by the doctor, as he has made the human system a study for the past sixteen years, and his large experience in the hospitals of Europe and this country has enabled him to perform many wonderful cures which have been pronounced incurable.

DR. WESLEY makes a specialty in the treatment of chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Dropsy and all the diseases of the Blood, Heart, Liver, Kidneys, Spine, Piles, Festules, and in fact nearly all the diseases to which the human flesh is heir to are treated successfully by him.

Ladies that are suffering with diseases peculiar to the sex consult the Doctor with every assurance of relief, as he gives special attention to the treatment of all female complaints.

"UNION LABOR PARTY."

THE CONVENTION IN CINCINNATI FINALLY ADOPT A PLATFORM.

Christening of the Reform Movement With an Almost Unanimous Vote — Placed Upon a Platform of Universal Suffrage. The Platform Complete—Notes.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 25.—Delegates were slow in assembling for the evening session, and it was a quarter to 8 o'clock when the conference was called to order. After several announcements had been made, Chairman Streeter stated that the committee on platform and resolutions had completed their labors, and called upon Chairman Robert Schilling, of Milwaukee, to read the report.

Mr. Schilling stated that perhaps it was necessary to make some explanation of the delay. He said that there were many ideas that clashed, and that the members of the committee had "given and taken" with a view to harmonize all differences. He hoped the members of the conference would treat the report in the same spirit. To tell the truth, he said, there were some things in the platform which he did not like, but he had conceded personal views for the sake of harmony. The report was amended in only two respects—on the woman suffrage question and on the name of the new party.

The committee reported the name of the party as "Commoners." The convention made it "Union Labor." The committee reported a very indefinite woman suffrage plank, and the convention made a bold statement in favor of the reform. As adopted the platform is as follows:

"The delegates of various industrial and reform political organizations have assembled from thirty-one states and territories on this anniversary of the birth of 'The Father of His Country,' to view the situation of public affairs and advise proper action.

"A general discontent prevails on the part of the wealth producers, farmers are suffering from a poverty which has forced most of them to mortgage their estates, and prices of products are so low as to offer no relief except through bankruptcy. Laborers are sinking into greater and greater dependence, strikes are resorted to without bringing relief because of the inability of employers, in many cases, to pay living wages, while more and more are driven into the streets. Business men find collections almost impossible, meantime hundreds of millions of idle public money, which is needed for relief, is locked up in the United States treasury in grim mockery of the distress. Land monopoly flourishes as never before, and more and more owners of the soil are daily becoming tenants. Great transportation corporations still succeed in extorting their profits upon watered stock through unjust charges.

"The United States senate has become an open scandal, its seats being purchased by the rich in open defiance of the popular will.

"A trifling fisheries dispute is seized upon as an excuse for squandering public money upon unnecessary military preparations which are designed to breed a spirit of war, to ape European despotism, and to empty the treasury without paying the public debt.

"Under these and other alarming conditions we appeal to the people of this whole country to come out of old party organizations, whose indifference to the public welfare is responsible for this distress, and help us to organize a new political party not sectional, but national, whose members shall be called Commoners, whose object shall be to repeal all class laws in favor of the rich, and to relieve the distress of our industries by establishing the following principles:

"First.—Every human being possesses a natural inalienable right to sufficient land for self-support, and we desire to secure to every industrious citizen a home, as the highest result of free institutions. To this end we demand a graduated land tax on all large estates, especially those held for speculative or tenant purposes; the reclamation of all unearned land grants; the immediate opening of Oklahoma to homestead settlement; the purchase of all unoccupied Indian lands, and the settlement of the various tribes upon lands in severalty; also laws preventing corporations from acquiring real estate beyond the requirements of their business and alien ownership of land. The systems of irrigation in states and territories, where necessary, shall be under such public control as shall secure the free and equitable use of the water and franchises to the people.

"Second.—The means of communication and transportation should be owned or controlled by the people, as in the United States postal service, and equitable rates everywhere established.

"Third.—The establishment of a National monetary system in the interest of the producer, instead of the speculator and usurer, by which a circulating medium in necessary quantity and full legal tender shall be issued directly to the people, without the intervention of banks, or loaned to citizens upon ample security at a low rate of interest to relieve from the extortions of usury, and enable them to control the money supply. Postal savings banks should be established. While we have free coinage of gold we should have free coinage of silver. We demand the prompt payment of the National debt, and condemn the further issue of interest-bearing bonds, either by the National government, or by states, territories, counties or municipalities.

"Fourth.—Arbitration should take the place of strikes and other injurious methods of settling labor disputes; the letting of convict labor to contractors be prohibited; the contract system be abolished in public works; the hours of labor in industrial establishments be reduced, commensurate with the increase of production in labor-saving machinery; employees be protected from bodily injury; equal pay being given for equal work for both sexes, and labor, agricultural and co-operative associations be fostered and incorporated by law. The foundation of a republic is the intelligence of its citizens, and children who are driven into workshops, mines and factories are deprived of education which should be secured to all by proper legislation. We desire to see labor organizations extend throughout all civilized countries until it shall be impossible for despots to array the workmen of one country in war against their brothers of another country.

"Fifth.—In appreciation of the services of United States soldiers and sailors, we demand for them justice before charity. The purposely depreciated money paid them during the war should be made equal in value to the gold paid the bondholders. The soldier was promised coin, or its equivalent, and paid in depreciated paper. The bondholder loaned the government depreciated paper, and contracted to take it back, but was paid in gold.

"Sixth.—A graded income tax is the most equitable system of taxation, placing the burden of government on those who can best afford to pay, instead of laying it on the farmers and producers, and exempting millionaire bondholders and corporations.

"Seventh.—The capture of the United States senate by millionaires and tools of corporations who have no sympathy with free institutions, threatens the very existence of the republic. We demand a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

"Eighth.—State and national laws should be passed as shall effectually exclude from America the Mongolian slave and Asiatic competition.

"Ninth.—The employment of bodies of armed men by private corporations should be prohibited.

"Tenth.—The right to vote is inherent in citizenship, irrespective of sex.

"Eleventh.—Excessive wealth, resulting in luxury and idleness on the one hand, and excessive toil and poverty on the other, lead to intemperance and vice. The measures of reform here demanded will prove to be the scientific solution of the temperance question.

As soon as the chair called to order the convention of the Union Labor party for its third day's session, at 10 o'clock this morning, Mr. Murray, of Massachusetts, offered the following resolution, which was adopted by a standing vote:

"RESOLVED, That the thanks of the convention are hereby tendered to the citizens of Cincinnati, to the press and local executive committee for their hospitality, courtesy and for the considerate and liberal generosity in providing for the comfort and welfare of the representatives of the new party."

Mr. Zane, of Pennsylvania, offered the following:

"RESOLVED, That for the purpose of a National organization a committee be appointed consisting of one member from each state, territory and the District of Columbia, the members of the committee to be selected by the state delegations."

This met with objection from several delegates on the ground that the rules provided for such a committee and that the motion is out of order.

Mr. Zane insisted that he wanted no clique to have control of the offices of the party, and his only point was to have the convention and not the committee, select the chairman, secretary and treasurer.

This fired the convention and a dozen delegates cried:

"Mr. President—Mr. President—"

Down went the gavel with tremendous force, and Chairman Streeter said:

"I want it understood that I am the chairman of this convention."

Upon motion the convention went into the election of a National executive committee, and the calling of the states by the secretary showed the following result:

Alabama, J. J. Woodall; Arkansas, Charles E. Cunningham; Colorado, Gilbert DeLaMater; California, R. E. Davis; Dakota Territory, J. O. Dean; District of Columbia, Lee Crandell; Illinois, J. B. Clark; Indiana, Thomas Gruelle; Iowa, W. H. Robb; Indian Territory, M. N. Loom; Idaho Territory, C. W. Cooper; Kansas, W. D. Vincent; Kentucky, L. A. Wood; Maryland, Charles A. Mette; Massachusetts, Marmar Johnston; Michigan, W. D. Beard; Mississippi, J. V. Copeland; Missouri, J. Nolan; Nebraska, O. Hull; New Hampshire, George Carpenter; New Jersey, W. D. DuBois; New York, J. I. Hoyt; North Carolina, J. R. Winston; Ohio, Charles Jenkins; Oregon, G. W. Pike; Pennsylvania, John P. Zaines; Rhode Island, Holmes W. Merton; Tennessee, J. R. Mills; Texas, Capt. Sam. Evans; West Virginia, J. K. Thompson; Washington Territory, George N. Smith; Wisconsin, W. M. Lockwood.

When the names of Mississippi, Arkansas and North Carolina were called, they reported that they had no member to offer, as they refused to go into the organization, as the woman suffrage plank in the platform would not be enforced by their southern constituency.

John R. Winston, of North Carolina, offered the following resolution:

"RESOLVED, That the planks in the platform on land, transportation, money, labor, income tax and Chinese labor be recognized as the National platform of this party, and that the states may put the others in at their option."

After a hot discussion, the chair held the resolution out of order, but ruled that a motion would be in order giving any state a right to leave any plank of the National platform out of the state platform.

A motion to this effect went through with a rush and the disaffected states cheered and said they were satisfied and afterward announced their National committee.

Thomas M. Gruelle, of Indianapolis, has been elected chairman of the National committee.

When the District of Columbia was called, Chapman, a cranky individual from Indiana, moved that it be not recognized. He said his reasons were that there was a sneak here, meaning Col. Lee Crandall, who was here trying to be elected chairman of the National committee.

He went on to denounce him as a hypocrite and set out. Then there was loud confusion and great excitement and nearly every delegate on his feet asking recognition.

A vote was finally taken on the proposition and the District of Columbia was shut out.

After the naming of the committee Jesse Harper, of Illinois, and two or three others were nominated for chairman, but Col. Norton, of Chicago, took the floor and in an eloquent speech nominated Thomas M. Gruelle, of Indiana, and he was immediately elected by acclamation.

The following gentlemen were then nominated for secretary: L. P. Curtis, S. L. Douglas, T. R. Vincent, R. M. E. Cooper, J. T. Taylor and I. F. McDonald, of Ohio. After the election of chairman Gruelle, E. H. Gillett and L. H. Weller, of Iowa, came to the rescue of Lee Crandall and insisted that an injustice had been done the District of Columbia, and moved a re-consideration, which was carried. Mr. Crandall was then made a member of the national committee.

At 12:30 the convention adjourned until 2 o'clock to finish the work of the convention, which includes the election of a secretary and treasurer of the national committee.

Chairman Streeter was tendered a unanimous vote of thanks. Chairman Streeter headed a subscription to pay the expenses of the committee on arrangements with a ten dollar bill. The amount, $65, was readily raised.

The main object of the convention having been attained in the platform of last night, many of the delegates to the Union Labor party national convention have started on their homeward way. The headquarters of the visitors in the Burnet house were deserted, and the delegates in the corridor, with the air of friends about to part, discussed the platform. There was considerable dissatisfaction because the name of the party was not different. Opposition to the present name, however, was not united on any other. There was also apparent much growling because the prohibition plank to the platform had not been adopted, and there were a few ungallant fellows who persisted in objection to the woman suffrage plank. The grumblers were, however, in the minority. Most of the delegates wore a look of contentment.

MAYOR BOWMAN'S MURDER.

The Arrest of Another Policeman Furnishes an Additional Sensation.

St. Louis, Feb. 25.—Shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday, the hour set for the preliminary examination at Belleville, Ill., of George W. Voice, the supposed murderer of ex-Mayor Bowman, of East St. Louis, another sensation was added to the case by the arrest of Police Officer Patrick O'Neil, of the latter city, on a warrant charging him with complicity in the crime. O'Neil went to Belleville on official business, and upon arriving at the court house was arrested and taken to jail. His arrest caused a sensation, for he has always borne a good reputation, and has been considered one of the most faithful and efficient officers on the force.

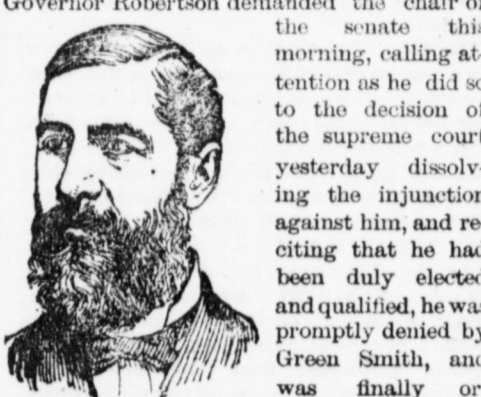

He was seen by a reporter soon after the arrest, and said it was a great surprise to him, not only because he was innocent, but because he did not even know that he was suspected of committing the crime. He says he was employed as a watchman at the stockyards at the time, and was on duty when Mr. Bowman was killed. He remembered that the information of the mayor's death was telephoned to him from the central office, and that was the first he knew of the affair. He could prove by several witnesses that he was on duty as watchman when the fatal shot was fired.

The preliminary examination of George W. Voice was commenced at 1 o'clock, and Detective Phillips was put on the stand. He testified to finding the revolver with which it is supposed the crime was committed. Christian A. Schmidt, who gave the detectives the information on which Voice was arrested, was the next witness. He said that on the evening of the murder he happened to be near the murdered man's house with a companion named Banks, and saw the flash of a revolver and Voice retreating hastily from the scene.

FORCIBLY EJECTED.

Lieutenant Governor Robertson Put Out of the Indiana Senate.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 25.—When Lieutenant Governor Robertson demanded the chair of the senate this morning, calling attention as he did so to the decision of the supreme court yesterday dissolving the injunction against him, and reciting that he had been duly elected and qualified, he was promptly denied by Green Smith, and was finally ordered from the senate chamber.

Robert S. Robertson, derided from the senate chamber. Declining to go, he was forcibly ejected by Doorkeeper Pritchett and others. The Republican senators came to his rescue, and an indiscriminate row, approaching a riot, resulted. Senator Johnson struck Senator McDonald, blacking his eye and skinning his nose. Other blows were exchanged and some good blood spilled.

The excitement is spreading throughout the city, and wild times are anticipated at the capitol. The Democratic senators have resolved to sit out the session, and have ordered dinner sent in. The Metropolitan police officers who had come to look on were driven from the corridors of the capitol by the crowd, who supposed that the police had been directed there to barricade the doors of the senate against Robertson.

Republicans assert they are on legal grounds and that their connection with a senate under Green Smith's presidency is now at an end. They will under no circumstances recede from the position that Robertson was elected and qualified as lieutenant governor; that he has the right to preside over the senate as such officer, and that inasmuch as the courts decline to pass on Smith's claim the latter has none until the assembly establishes one for him. This, as the house will not recognize the senate, he can never do.

BIG SANDY BOOMING.

Greatest Flood for Years Threatened—Much Damage Done.

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., Feb. 25.—Twenty hours of heavy rain has caused the Big Sandy river and her tributaries to rise at an unprecedented rate, and the destruction to floating craft has been great, the loss being almost incalculable. At 10 o'clock there was twenty-five feet at Richardson, a rise of eighteen feet. The river is rising rapidly, and it rained all night.

At Louisa the Tug Fork had risen twenty feet, with twenty-seven feet of water in the channel, and the river was rising rapidly and running full of logs at the mercy of the raging waters. Four rafts of Hugh & Scott's were torn from their moorings in the mouth of the Sandy early this morning and swept away. There will be a rise of thirty feet in the Sandy, the biggest tear the river has been on for years. Hundreds of logs have passed out into the Ohio, and the Sandy is still running full. No boats will venture out. Weather cool and cloudy.

THE SENATE'S PRESIDENT.

SENATOR INGALLS NOMINATED FOR THE POSITION.

A Senator From Kansas Selected By the Republicans to Succeed John Sherman. Proceeding of the House and Senate—Other Happenings at Washington.

JOHN J. INGALLS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The Republican caucus to-day nominated John J. Ingalls, of Kansas, for president pro tempore of the senate, vice John Sherman, resigned. The vote stood: Ingalls, 18; Hoar, 8; Edmunds, 1; Frye, 1. The nomination was made unanimous. The Democratic senators have unanimously agreed to support Senator Harris, of Tennessee, for the position. The election of Mr. Ingalls will take place in open session of the senate to-morrow.

House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Messages from the president were presented, returning without his approval, the bills granting a pension to Anthony McRobertson; increasing the pensions of Margaret R. Jones and Lorin Barrett, and for the relief of William H. Morehuaser. Referred.

The senate bill making Tampa, Fla., a port of entry, was passed.

Messrs. Randall, Forney and Ryan were appointed conferees on the sundry civil appropriation bill.

The senate amendments to the military academy appropriation bill were concurred in.

The report of the committee on elections upon the Indiana contested election case was called up, and the resolution reported was adopted without division. It confirms the right of Steele to the seat.

The senate amendments to the District of Columbia appropriation bill were non-concurred.

The report of the committee of the whole on the senate amendments to the postoffice appropriation bill was called up. The first three amendments were concurred in. The fourth amendment, appropriating $500,000 to contract for the carrying of foreign mails on American vessels to Central and South America, was non-concurred in, and a conference was ordered.

On motion of Mr. Matson, the dependent pension bill, with the veto message of the president, was called up. After a lengthy discussion the house refused to pass the bill over the president's veto by a vote of 175 yeas to 125 nays, not the necessary two-thirds in the affirmative. The result was received with loud applause on the Democratic side and hisses from the Republicans.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A very large number of petitions from Grand Army posts praying for the passage of the dependent pension bill over the president's veto were presented and laid on the table.

The house substitute for the fishery retaliation bill was disagreed to, and a conference asked. Messrs. Edmunds, Frye and Morgan were appointed on the part of the senate.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the select committee on additional accommodations for the library to sit during the recess.

Mr. Van Wyck offered a resolution declaring it to be the judgment of the senate that an amendment to the constitution should be submitted to the people for the election of senators directly by the voters. He asked that the resolution be laid over until to-morrow, when he will make some remarks upon it.

Mr. Hoar asked that as soon as the pleuropneumonia bill was disposed of the senate should take up the Pacific railroad inquiry resolution. He hoped it would be taken up at 2 o'clock to-morrow, and the session continued until it was disposed of. This was agreed to by unanimous consent.

The house bill was then taken up providing for the adjustment of land grants made by congress to aid the construction of railroads in Kansas, and for the forfeiture of unearned lands.

Several amendments recommended by the public lands committee were agreed to.

Mr. Plumb said that the bill was general in its application, but he believed it would operate principally on lands in Kansas and Colorado.

The Direct Tax Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The house committee on judiciary this morning instructed Mr. Bennett, of North Carolina, to write a favorable report, which will be signed by a majority of the committee, on the direct tax bill, passed recently by the senate. The bill is amended so as to provide that if any state refuses to accept the money it shall remain in the treasury. There will be two minority reports. The committee will meet to-morrow to dispose of the bill to change presidential inauguration day to April 30.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The house committee on appropriations have agreed to non-concur in all the senate amendments to the District of Columbia bill. It agreed to insert in the deficiency bill provision for one chief division at $1,800 a year for the pension office during the remainder of the fiscal year, ten clerks of Class 2, and ten clerks of Class 1; and in the legislative, executive and judicial bill $10,000 for clerks at pension agencies and $3,000 for the contingent fund of pension agencies.

FRIDAY EVENING FEB. 25, 1887.

"Young Democracy."

The "young Democracy" of Kentucky is a failure. Tom Davis and J. Hawthorne Hill, the late "sole owner" and his partner, have said so, and, of course, "that settles it." Being one of the great army curfews—the "young Democracy,"—we expected them to jerk the "grand old Commonwealth" out of the "ruts" and place her on the highway to future glory and greatness. But now come Tom Davis and J. Hawthorne Hill and say the so-called young Democracy of Kentucky is but a "chip off the old block." What Tom and J. Hawthorne don't know about this subject or any other subject isn't worth knowing, of course. It could very likely be squeezed into a mustard seed. If the forefathers of the young Democracy were living to-day, they would have changed their political views and gone over to the Republican party, or some other party. Tom Davis and J. Hawthorne Hill say so, and of course they know just what they are talking about. They don't even leave the shadow of a doubt on the subject. "Had the old worthies lived they would have changed their views."

Again, we regret to learn from our exceedingly brilliant brothers that the young Democracy hasn't succeeded in introducing a "new spirit about the Statehouse." This was a fond wish of ours. There's no telling what a new spirit might have done. It might have run the State debt up from its present modest proportions to $30,000,000, $40,000,000 and even $50,000,000, such a debt as Republican Ohio owes. But the "new spirit" wasn't introduced, and the State can soon pay all she owes.

And again, the Legislature hasn't done anything for years, "as the result of careful or intelligent study or discussion." What has been done was the result of mere accident. Tom Davis and J. Hawthorne Hill say so, and of course they know all about it. What a pity that these brilliant men who run the Republican have to confine their wonderful genius to the narrow bounds of a newspaper office! The next Legislature should secure their valuable services as intellectual guides, or it should draw on them for a little "new spirit."

If the young Democrats, the old Democrats, the middle aged Democrats or any other kind of Democrats expect anything complimentary from the Republican, they are destined to a sore disappointment.

The Indiana Supreme Court has decided it has no jurisdiction in the contest between Smith and Robertson over the Lieutenant Governorship. It took them a long time to find this out, and the decision, leaves the matter just where it was in the start.

SENATOR BECK is said to be in favor of Carlisle for Secretary of the Treasury. We do not doubt it. While the distinguished Speaker is not making any effort to succeed Beck, still the Senator would probably like to see him comfortably fixed in the Cabinet.

THE New York Herald says that there is a "bronze monument" for the next "crank" who wants to blow up something, and, instead of blowing up a "miserable railway station" he will only "blow" up the internal revenue system." This desperate bid of the Herald shows that the opponents of our only scientific system of national taxation are in greater straits than many people had supposed. But when you come to think about it, cranks are the very people they require.

GEORGE W. OLDFHAM will take charge of the old Maysville Republican material about the first of March, and start a Republican paper at Maysville. This is exonerating, under the circumstances. Here is the list: Maysville Republican, Oldham's new paper, Maysville BULLETIN, Maysville Eagle, Sunday Morning Call, DAILY BULLETIN, Daily Republican. Then there is the News at Dover. Mason County won't support the half of them.—Bracken Republican.

"The more the merrier," Brother Morris. And then you don't know Mason County. She's able to take care of several more paupers. The present list is not a very large one.

Nor long ago, an execution was sent from Mt. Sterling to the Sheriff of Rowan County for collection. In a few days the paper was sent back with the following return:

"An enjoiner and restrained from collecting this execution—enjoined and restrained from doing any other act in collection of said a. f. s. by Elias Bradley, Justice of Peace, Rowan County, served on me by the town marshal of Morehead this the 4th day of February, 1887.

Signed by the High Sheriff of Rowan. Commenting on this, a writer of Mt. Sterling says that "Rowan has asserted her sovereignty, or 'Justice Bradley' is a man of muscle and might, and a bold usurper of paramount rank."

THE GREAT SPHINX.

INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF THE WORK OF DISINTERMENT.

The Sand Carried Away in Large Baskets—Astonishing Results from Apparently Inadequate Means—Various Excavations—Restorations of Roman Date.

The last occasion on which the Great Sphinx was cleared down to the level on which the paws rest was in honor of the opening of the Suez canal in 1869. The ever drifting sands had, however, buried it almost to the throat when Professor Maspero, during his last year of office at Boulak, began again the work of disinterment. This work has now been going on, somewhat intermittently, for more than twelve months, and is at the present time in active progress under the direction of Professor Maspero's successor, M. Grebaut. A tramway has been laid down from the Sphinx to the edge of the Pyramid plateau, passing close under the west face of the granite building popularly, though incorrectly, called the temple of the Sphinx. Along this tramway light trucks convey the sand to the point at which their contents are discharged, the trucks being loaded by Arabs of both sexes and all ages, who carry the sand upon their heads in large flat baskets, ascending and descending all day long from the excavations below to the tramway above and vice versa.

ASTONISHING RESULTS.

The means look curiously inadequate, but the results are astonishing. Already the entire fore part of the great stone monster is laid bare, and the huge chest, the paws, the space between the paws, the altar in front of them, and the platform upon which they rest, are once more open to the light of day. Nor is this all. Between the Sphinx and the edge of the Pyramid plateau a vast space has also been cleared, thus bringing to view a fine flight of steps some 40 feet in width. These steps, which are described by Pliny, were uncovered by Caviglia in 1817, but have been entirely lost to sight for nearly seventy years. A second flight of steps and the remains of two Roman buildings were also found by Caviglia, and will again be brought to light if M. Grebaut continues to work in this direction.

To the right of the Sphinx—that is to say, in the direction of the granite temple, to the southward, a further excavation is in progress, the result of which will probably confirm the surmises of those who believe the Sphinx to stand in the midst of a huge artificial amphitheatre hewn out of the solid rock. This gigantic work would of course be contemporaneous with the Sphinx itself, which Mariette attributed to the mythical ages before the advent of Mena, the first king of the first dynasty, and which Maspero considers to be, if not actually prehistoric, at all events the oldest monument in Egypt.

From the level of the area below the great flight of steps (which lead down, and not up, to the Sphinx) one now measures the whole height of the huge human-headed monster, whose battered countenance stands out against the cloudless sky 100 feet above.

BETWEEN THE PAWS.

The space between the paws is thirty-five feet long and ten feet wide. This space was anciently converted into a small sanctuary lined with votive tablets, only one of which—the famous stela of Thothmes IV—yet remains in situ. The stela records how the king, when upon one of his hunting expeditions, lay down to rest at midday in the shadow of the Sphinx. He there fell asleep, and dreamed a dream in which the venerable image conjured him to clear away the sand in which it was nearly buried. Then the prince awoke and "made silence in his heart," and vowed to do that which the god had commanded.

The paws of the sphinx, as they now appear, are a restoration of Roman date, being cast in comparatively small slabs, and to some extent hollow underneath. The breast of the sphinx has likewise been faced with slabs, apparently in Roman times; and these slabs have again been repaired by cutting away the weathered surface and inserting a fresh facing. Like the legs of the Colossi of the Plain, and those of the great statue of Abo Simbel, the paws of the sphinx are covered with the Greek scrawls of early travelers; but these graffiti are mostly of a late period and so slightly scratched that few are legible throughout. Such as they are, however, Professor Maspero has, it is understood, devoted himself to the ungrateful and difficult task of translating them.

M. Grebaut's excavations are not limited to the clearance of the sphinx only. Various interesting tombs have lately been discovered in the vicinity of the great pyramid, and to the westward the face of the Libyan cliff has been reached where it forms the natural boundary of the Pyramid plateau. Some good early rock-cut tombs, with built forecourts, have been found in the face of this cliff, in two of which the walled up recesses or secret chambers, called "serdabs," which were constructed for the safe keeping of funerary portrait statues, are yet intact with their contents.—London Times.

GLIMPSE OF DETECTIVE LIFE.

Everyday Side of a Very Commonplace Occupation—But Little Glory.

"There is one thing I never could understand," said one of the oldest of the central office detectives the other afternoon, "and that is why there should be such a fascination to most persons about the life of a detective. I think about half the youth of America must hold it their dearest ambition to be detectives some day. I suppose the great number of trashy books thrown on the public every week which portray the life of a detective as all excitement and glory are responsible for most of it—books like the lurid stuff published under the name of Allan Pinkerton, and which Allan Pinkerton had about as much to do with as you or I.

"The truth is that there is precious little that's exciting and still less of glory in a detective's life. We're not forever going about in disguises and tracking down express robbers and desperate murderers at the risk of our lives, I can tell you. There isn't one detective in ten thousand that ever has any experience remotely resembling the wild tales that are continually being told about us. If Fifth Avenue millionaires should be continually described as habitually sawing cords of wood every morning before breakfast the public would think it very strange, wouldn't it? But that wouldn't be half as unnatural as constantly describing detectives as unearthing strange and mysterious crimes by means of clews of red, red hair or a broken toothpick. The average detective is really not much more than a watchman. He differs from an ordinary patrolman principally in that he wears no uniform, has no regular beat, and is supposed to have greater ability and discrimination. The larger part of his work is not a bit more interesting or exciting than that of the average patrolman. He may recognize some old offender on the street and run him in, watch some important building, hunt up somebody's stolen watch in a pawnshop, stay up all night in the rain or snow to keep an eye on a boodle alderman's back door, or go out to Chicago and bring back some criminal who is wanted here. If he is good looking and has a polished address he may be assigned to some big ball or party to see that the guests don't run off with the spoons, but ten chances to one if he's on the force twenty years he'll never do anything more exciting.

"In order to get the precious privilege of leading his hum-drum and uncomfortable kind of a life, most of us have served hard apprenticeship in the ranks of the police and demonstrated the possession of sense and judgment in some emergency such as may never happen to more than one man in 10,000."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Running an Account.

It is a convenient thing; to have a standing account at a store, where you can go at any time, order what you please, and have it charged, without the worry of having to consider whether you have money in your purse to pay for it or not, but it is also true that these items, small though they may be, mount up with appalling rapidity into a sum that always surpasses expectation. Besides, this, the very best calculator, and those who generally use a wise economy, buy things in this way which they could easily do without did they take the time for reflection which cash payments would often compel. It is so easy, when an article that seems at the time desirable is seen, to order it sent and charged for, the temptation overcomes the buyer before the strength which comes from looking at the matter on all sides enables her to resist the impulse to buy. Often purchases are made in this way and regretted, while something that was far more necessary must in consequence be gone without.

Merchants understand that a great deal more is likely to be bought where there is a running account than when cash is paid down, which explains their readiness to trust those whom they have reason to believe will pay what they honestly owe. The excess will in nine cases out of ten, more than compensate for the loss of interest upon the outstanding sums, though there is no question but that they sometimes lose large amounts by the failure of individuals through misfortune, sickness, death or deliberate rascality to discharge their debts.—Emily S. Bouton in Toledo Blade.

Railway Collision.

CRESTON, Iowa, Feb. 25.—A frightful tail-end collision occurred near Red Oak, yesterday morning. A freight train pulled by a mogul engine, crashed into a way car of another train standing on the main track. Asleep in the way car were Frank McKay, Elmer Bright, and a stockman named John Martin, of Van Buren county, Iowa. The huge mogul engine crushed the way car into splinters, and badly wrecked about fifty cars. The engineer and fireman jumped in time to save their lives. McKay was badly crushed and died shortly after being taken out of the wreck. Bright and Martin will recover.

Indiana Out of Funds.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 25.—As has been anticipated for several days, the general fund of the Indiana treasury has been exhausted, and the payment of claims against the state has been suspended. The state will be without money until some provision can be made by the legislature for raising funds. Claims to the amount of over $100,000 are now held by the banks, and it is expected that a big brokerage business on this class of paper will spring up.

Three Boys Crushed to Death.

TRINIDAD, Col., Feb. 25.—A cave-in occurred at the coal mines of the Colorado Coal and Iron company, at Eagle, three miles from here, yesterday, by which three boys, Jack Pectora, Frank Scargari and Daniel Conway were crushed to death. The father of Conway barely escaped, but was badly injured.

A Rehearing Granted.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 25.—The board of pardons has granted a rehearing in the cases of Milton Weston, the Chicago capitalist, now undergoing imprisonment in the Riverside penitentiary, for complicity in the Murrayville gas well riots, and John J. Johnston and James Newman, Washington county miners, convicted of conspiracy and riot.

Shot His Wife.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 25.—Herman Effin, a boarding-house keeper, at No. 506 South Seventh street, shot and killed his wife yesterday afternoon for persisting in an intimacy which he claims existed between her and a boarder named Herman Marks. She was forty years old, and the mother of several children. The shooting was the result of a quarrel which the pair had in their rooms, the man demanding that Marks be ordered to leave the house. She laughed at him, whereupon he drew his pistol and fired, the ball passing through her abdomen, producing death in a few hours.

Masonic Notes.

Coroner M. T. Cockrell is the oldest Mason in this city. He is past seventy-eight years of age. In 1835, he joined Confidence Lodge No. 52. Several years afterwards he withdrew to help organize Mason Lodge No. 342. He attended the dedication of the Temple the other night, and was one of the happiest fellows there.

The paraphernalia used by Maysville Commandery No. 10, K. T., in the secret work of the order cost $1,500, and was furnished by The M. C. Lilley & Co., of Columbus, O., through Sir Knight Jas. K. Lloyd, agent.

Confidence Lodge No. 52, F. and A. M., is in possession of a painting which is valued very highly. It is a portrait of Colonel Joseph Hamilton Davis, who was born March 4, 1774. The gallant Colonel met his death in the famous battle of Tippecanoe, November 7, 1811. He was Grand Master of Kentucky at the time of his death. The portrait was presented to Confidence Lodge, February 13, 1839, by Major James Byers, who lived near this city at that time. There are but two other portraits of Davis in this country—one owned at Louisville and the other at Philadelphia.

Confidence Lodge has about sixty members, and Mason Lodge between forty and fifty. Maysville Commandery No. 10, K. T., has a membership of one hundred and eight.

The large banner of Maysville Commandery No. 10, K. T., is the handsomest and next to the costliest in this country. It has been awarded the blue ribbon wherever the Knights have gone. It was catalogued to the Commandery at $1,000 by Pettibone, of Cincinnati, and to give some idea of its handsome and costly finish, we have only to state that the heavy fringe, tassels, &c., represent twenty-five pounds of silver and gold bullion. The Commandery has several more handsome banners, one being the gift of Mrs. Lucy A. Keith, of this city, and another, a present from Sir J. Lacey Pearson, of Painesville, O. They are all ornamented with some of numerous symbols and mottoes of the order.

The memorial window, presented by Mrs. Emily Gray, contains about seven hundred pieces of glass of almost every imaginable color and size and design. It was furnished at a cost of several hundred dollars through Andrews & Co., of Chicago.

DIE DEUTSCHE GESELLSCHAFT met last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Rogers. All spent a most pleasant evening. The society will meet again Tuesday evening, March 8th, at Dr. J. T. Strode's.

Cahill-Wilson.

At the home of Mr. John H. Wilson, brother of the bride, the marriage of Mr. J. E. Cahill and Miss Anna Wilson, was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Rev. R. B. Garrett, pastor of the Baptist Church, officiated. The affair was a quiet one, as no invitations had been issued. A very few out of the large circle of the bride's friends were present to witness the ceremony. Mythology represents Cupid as being blindfold, but there must be some mistake. Methinks he must have had his eyes wide open in his selection of the subject at which he aimed in this case.

Miss Wilson is well and widely known as a lady of inestimable qualities of heart and mind, the embodiment of all that is noble and good. We congratulate Mr. Cahill upon having drawn the capital prize in the matrimonial lottery. Mr. Cahill is a gentleman well known in Maysville and Mason County—highly esteemed for his many qualities, who will doubtless prove worthy of such a prize. They have the well wishes of a host of friends.

OBITUARY.

At noon, of Tuesday, February 8, 1887, after an illness of two weeks, the spirit of Mrs. Lucinda Patton, of Nepton, Fleming County, Ky., forsook its earthly tenement for the house of many mansions prepared for those who, like her, trust in the promises of our Savior. The funeral services were held in the Christian Church at Elizaville, and were conducted by our Baptist brother, Rev. Varde-man, of Mayslick, Ky., who preached an eloquent and appropriate discourse, his subject being the "Transfiguration on the Mount." After the services, the body was interred in the cemetery at Elizaville. Mrs. Patton was one of the oldest, best known and most respected residents of Fleming County. She was born June 15, 1813, and for sixty years was a faithful follower of Christ, joining the Baptist Church at Mayslick, Ky., under the preaching of that old pioneer of the gospel, Rev. William Varden. During her illness she expressed her perfect trust in Christ and her willingness to go to him, her only regret being to leave her children, of whom she leaves six. She was ever a most devoted friend and mother—kind, generous and true—and a host of friends, young and old, will treasure her memory, and remember her as one "whom it was good to know."

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgety, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of liver and kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

HUNDREDS OF LIVES LOST.

FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE EARTHQUAKE IN EUROPE.

Whole Villages, Homes and People Buried in a Twinkling—The Province of Genoa, Italy, Suffered the Most—The Earth Still Shaking—Other Foreign News.

ROME, Feb. 25.—The details of the destruction wrought by yesterday's earthquake in the Genoese Riviera present a terrible picture. Over 1,500 people were killed. In the village of Bajardo the inhabitants fled in terror to the church, which fell on them and 800 were killed. The destruction of property is immense and widespread. Nothing since the terrible disaster at Lisbon, in the last century, has dealt Europe such a deadly and appalling blow.

Three days ago a dispatch from Berlin stated that the annular eclipse of the sun would be accompanied by seismic disturbances. The prophecy was true. The shock apparently came from the Mediterranean Sea, near Marseilles, and traveled eastward, following accurately the line of coast. The shock was of nearly a minute's duration. Scarcely had its vibrations ceased when another shock, but not so severe, followed immediately in its wake. This second shock lasted about twenty seconds and completed the work of destruction. The first shock loosened buildings from their foundations, cracked walls and opened yawning gaps in the earth. The succeeding shock tumbled the damaged buildings to the ground in a heap of ruins. From some cities a third shock was reported, a few minutes after the others.

The loss of life was frightful, especially along the Italian Riviera (seashore) fringing the Gulf of Genoa, which is traversed by a railroad its entire length from Nice to Rome. Three hundred or more were killed at Cerro, near Diano-Marino. In the vicinity of Oneglia, particularly at Diana-Marino, hundreds more were killed by the falling of the walls, and the town was two-thirds destroyed. At Noli as many as fifteen were killed in a single spot by the collapse of a building. Scores of lives were lost beyond a doubt at various points along the Riviera, as it was thronged with pleasure seekers and tourists from America and England, many of them were precipitated into the sea from the summit of the cliffs, which are steep and rocky.

At Marseilles the shock was so severe as to crack the walls of scores of buildings. The people fled in terror, and the city is almost deserted for the open country. Toulon felt the shock, but not so severely as Marseilles.

The gambling houses at Monaco and Monte Carlo were almost ruined. Fortunately they were deserted when the shock occurred. At both of these places a number of houses were wrecked and huge rocks and portions of the Riviera were detached and thrown into the sea.

Rumors come from the interior that immense damage was done to life and property by avalanches of land and snow, started by the earthquake. It is feared that half has not been told of the extent of the loss of life caused by the earthquake, as no railway or telegraphic service is possible farther west than Savona.

In this city and at Leghorn a slight undulatory movement of the earth was perceptible. Rome seems to have been the farthest point east reached by the earthquake.

Another shock was experienced to-day at Mentone. Houses were badly shaken up, but no one was hurt. Villages built on the mountain sides were toppled into the valley by the shock.

Three railway trains loaded with food have been sent to the sufferers, together with a strong detachment of soldiers to preserve order.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—The English consul at Shanghai has found upon taking testimony in the case that the officers of the Peninsular and Oriental steamship "Nepaul" were solely to blame for the recent collision of that vessel with a Chinese transport ship by which the latter was sunk and one hundred lives were lost. #### Murderous Burglars.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 25.—Three negroes attempted last night to rob the grocery store of Henry Nabors, four and half miles east of Memphis, and knocked the proprietor senseless. The noise made by his falling to the floor brought his two daughters and a young woman who was visiting them into the store. The negroes fired upon them, hitting Miss Mollie Tillman in the head and one of Nabors' daughters in the leg. Mrs. Nabors, who appeared on the scene at this time, was also fired upon, but the bullet missed its aim. The negroes then fled. Miss Tillman's wounds may prove fatal. Sheriff, officers and a police sergeant have gone in pursuit of the would-be assassins.

The friends of the amendment are equally alert. A fierce fight is certain.

PUTNAM, Conn., Feb. 25.—Fire broke out last evening in the tenement houses adjoining St. Mary's Roman Catholic church. The church was filled with worshippers at the time and the alarm created almost a panic. The congregation rushed from the doors and several women fainted. A number of persons were somewhat injured, none of them, however, seriously. The baptismal font was overturned and broken in the confusion. The fire was soon extinguished with slight damage.

GOOCH'S MEXICAN SYRUP

OF WILD CHERRY, TAR, GLYCERINE, ETC. WILL CURE CONSUMPTION, and is the best remedy for the cure of all affections of the Throat, Lungs and Chest, such as Consumption, Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Pain or Oppression of the Chest, Hoarseness, Spitting of Blood, and all Pulmonary Diseases.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED!

WE have the gratifying fact to know that it can be cured with GOOCH'S MEXICAN SYRUP. Tuberculous matter is nothing more than nourishment imperfectly organized. Now, if we can procure the organization of this food material so that through the process of electric affinity it may take its place in the system, we can cure the disease. This is just what this Syrup does. It at once stops the progress of the disease by preventing the further supply of tuberculous matter, for while the system is under its influence all nourishment is organized and assimilated. It thus controls Coughs, Night Sweats and all other symptoms of Consumption. Consumption is one of the most loathsome and terrible of all fatal diseases, and makes the life of the poor consumptive a hell on earth. Until recently that terrible disease has been considered an affliction beyond the reach of medicine; but a new era in the management of pulmonary diseases seems to be dawning upon the scientific medical world, and since many distinguished physicians have acknowledged that consumption can be cured, few there are who attempt to controvert their opinion. To those singled out as victims to that fatal malady, we offer a remedy sure in its result of bringing back health to their poor weakened frames, and joy to the hearts of their friends.

Consumptives, because all other things fail, believe not that MEXICAN SYRUP will. Not a single sufferer need perish if he or she will take GOOCH'S MEXICAN SYRUP in time. A cough is unlike any other symptom of disease. It stands a conspirator, with threatening vice, menacing the health and existence of a vital organ; so commence at once at the first indication of a cough. TRY IT, you who suffer, and be convinced. Do you want to be saved from a consumptive's grave? Then make one more trial. This remedy is in the reach of everybody; it only costs 50 cents a bottle. Is your life not worth 50 cents? If so, make one more trial. Is not your life indeed worth one more trial? Test the truth of our words, only by one single bottle; and never give way to despair till you are certain there is no hope. It has cured thousands, and it will cure you. As we would plead with a friend to save him from taking his own life, we plead with you to save yourselves from a premature grave. We positively guarantee a perceptible and continuous improvement when the medicine is faithfully and persistently used.

PREPARED BY THE CINCINNATI DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., 54 Main St., Cincinnati, Ohio. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

If not on sale at nearest dealer, will send two bottles, post paid, on receipt of $1.00.
